Not illustrated. 1881 Excerpt: ...10th clause is as follows: The said loss or damage to be estimated according to the true and actual cash value of the said property at the place of destination, on the day of the disaster, and, on the property not forwarded to its destination, the said loss or damage to be ascertained in the same manner, and the freight from the place of disaster to the place of destination deducted, and the said assurers will pay such proportion of the said loss as the amount thereby insured bears to the sound value of the property so insured. In all cases of loss or damage there shall be deducted, in lieu of average, the sum of seventy-five dollars, on losses on grain and general merchandise, and fifty dollars on flour and other cargoes, excepting salt, on which the average shall be one hundred dollars. The 15th clause is as follows: And the said assurers do hereby undertake and agree to make good and satisfy unto the said insured all such loss or damage on the said goods, merchandise or country produce, Breed tr. The Providence Washington Insurance Company. Bo laden as aforesaid, not exceeding in amount the sum insured thereon, as shall happen or arise from any of the aforesaid causes or casualties, not excepted, to be paid within sixty days after notice and proof of the loss and interest therein shall have been made by the insured. The plaintiff claims that clause 10 is intended to apply to cases-where insurance is effected in other companies, and to no other cases, and has no effect in a case like this, where there was but a single policy; and he contends that the 15th clause determines the extent of the defendants liability in this instance, and that, by virtue thereof, they are liable for the whole
